

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Devices formed in a substrate are protected from shining spots present in a periphery of the substrate. A ring of material is formed on the substrate to separate the periphery of the substrate from a further region of the substrate where the devices are formed.

423238_1.DOC